I am from Albany, NY and St. Paul.

I got my start in the biz when I moved to MN and was inspired to write a screenplay loosely based on a trip I took with a friend to a powwow in SD back in 1999.

I am currently working on ABNORMALLY NORMAL, Julie Rappaport's project and life experience is almost parallel to mine. I wanted to be a part of something pioneering.

The project I am most excited about is COME AND GET YOUR LOVE, a feature I produced and directed in 2005. I'm excited about telling the on-going story in a prequel and sequel.

In ten years I see myself being a major player in the film world, making two movies a year, a TV series and having a house on Summit Ave.

The best part about being a member of MN WIFT is being around winners and women with similar vision.

I think we can strengthen the community of women in production by striving to be a major force in the entertainment industry and getting our projects shown in major theaters and TV Networks.

If I could be anywhere in the world right now I'd travel all over the country showing COME AND GET YOUR LOVE.

Three people I would love to meet are:

1. The person responsible for launching COME AND GET YOUR LOVE.
2. Sonny Landhan, Indian actor.
3. Dov S.S. Simens. If it weren't for him, this movie would never have happened.
